

Board Learning Session: Research and Development Priorities for NAEP August 9, 2024

Goal

The purpose of this session is to strengthen Board members' understanding of the National Center for Education Statistics' research and development priorities for the NAEP program—the general approach to research and development as well as how these activities are embedded across program components and contracts.

Overview

Dana Kelly, Education Research Scientist, Assessment Division, NCES, will make a presentation on this topic. Time will be reserved for Q&A with the Board as well as for discussion by the Board.
